Helpful Hints

BE INFORMED. Your counselor has information on other available scholarship funds. Check for information.

BE READY. Prepare in advance an essay about yourself and your goals. Most scholarship programs require some type of personal statement. Be creative.

BE AWARE. Deadlines for applications can sneak up on you. If you miss a deadline, there is no second chance. Note approaching deadlines and give yourself plenty of time to complete the application.

DEVELOP YOUR TALENTS. There are many scholarship contests for students who have an interest in writing, music, photography, art, math, science, etc., and financial need, extracurricular activities and grade point average are usually not criteria. Your talent in a particular area is what is important.

About the Hilton Education Foundation

The Hilton Education Foundation, founded in 2006, is a non-profit corporation comprised of volunteers working together to enhance education across the Hilton School District. The foundation supports the schools and students by funding teacher grant proposals, awarding scholarships to Hilton High School seniors so that they can further their education, and responding to special needs.

Checklist for Seniors

SUMMER BEFORE SENIOR YEAR

Visit colleges that interest you. Call ahead for the campus tour schedule. Schedule an on-campus interview with an admissions representative.

Finalize your list of colleges. Request college applications and informational packets. Organize materials into separate files by college.

Keep a college calendar of all admission deadlines.

If you plan on competing in Division I or Division II college sports and want to be eligible to be recruited by colleges, you must register with the NCAA Initial Eligibility Clearinghouse.

If you took AP Exams in May, you will receive your AP Grade Reports in July.

Register early for fall SAT tests.

SEPTEMBER

Meet with your counselor to talk about your college plans and review your transcript.

Get started on your college applications right away if you plan to apply through an Early Decision or Early Action program. Deadlines for early applications tend to fall in October or November.

Start working on your college essays. Write essays that focus on your experiences and make you stand out from the crowd.

Update your resume—your list of accomplishments, involvements, and work experiences. Your resume will help you complete your applications and essays.

Begin searching for scholarship information on the web, and apply according to stated deadlines. The LTHS counseling website is a great source!

Consider serving as an officer for your school, church or community organization.

OCTOBER

Ask your counselors, teachers, coaches or employers for letters of recommendation. Give them plenty of time to meet your deadlines and make sure to provide them with stamped and addressed envelopes.

Take SAT tests. Make sure your scores are sent to each of your colleges.

NOVEMBER

Submit Early Decision and Early Action applications on time.

Work hard at completing your college essays. Proofread them rigorously for mistakes.

Follow up with everyone you asked to ensure that letters of recommendation are sent on time to meet your deadlines.

Mail applications as early as possible for colleges with rolling deadlines (admission decisions are made as applications are received).

Take SAT tests. Make sure your scores are sent to each of your colleges.

DECEMBER

Try to wrap up college applications before winter break. Make copies of each application before you send it.

Take SAT tests. Make sure your scores are sent to each of your colleges.

Early Decision and Early Action responses begin arriving this month.

Visit <http://www.fafsa.ed.gov/> for information on submitting a Free Application for Student Financial Aid (FAFSA).

JANUARY

Some colleges include your first semester grades as a part of your application folder. This is called the mid-year grade report. Have your counselor send your grades to colleges that require them.

FEBRUARY

Contact your colleges and confirm that all necessary application materials have been received. Oftentimes this can be done via the school's online application system with your college-assigned student ID.

Don't get senioritis! Colleges want to see strong second half grades.

MARCH

Some admission decisions will arrive this month. Read everything you receive carefully, as some of it may require action on your part.

APRIL

Most admission decisions and financial aid award letters arrive this month. Read everything you receive carefully, as some of it may require action on your part.

Make a final decision, and mail the enrollment form and deposit check to the school you select before May 1st (enrollment deadline for most schools). Make sure you meet all your chosen school's deadlines for housing forms, fees, insurance and course schedules.

Notify—in writing—each of the schools to which you were accepted that you will not be attending so that your spot can be freed up for another student.

Notify the financial aid offices if you are accepting or declining their offers.

On the waiting list? Contact the admissions office and let them know of your continued interest in the college, and update them on your spring semester grades and activities.

MAY

AP Exams are administered. Arrange to have your AP Grade Report sent to your college.

Study hard for final exams. Most admission offers are contingent on your final grades.

Thank your counselor, teachers, employer, and anyone else who wrote you recommendations or otherwise helped with your college applications. If you won any scholarships, write thank you notes to the sponsors.

JUNE

Have your counselor send your final transcript to your college choice. If you took dual credit courses through ACC, submit a request for transcript form and payment to ACC.

If you plan on competing in Division I or Division II college sports, have your counselor send your final transcript to the NCAA Initial Eligibility Clearinghouse.

SUMMER FOLLOWING GRADUATION

Finalize your housing plans. Shop for items you will need for college.

Sign up and attend first-year orientation.

Plan your first semester courses with an eye towards eventually selecting your college major.

Pat yourself on the back. You've earned it!

This list from The College Board is only a general guide and will not apply to all colleges. Consult application materials, admission offices, and institution websites for the specific requirements and deadlines for each of your colleges.
